RCG IT Strengthens Business Intelligence Solutions through Alliance with Netezza

Edison, NJ, July 2, 2008 – RCG Information Technology (www.rcgit.com) has signed an alliance agreement with Netezza Corporation (NYSE Arca: NZ) to combine RCG IT's expertise in BI strategy, architecture and delivery with the industry-leading Netezza Performance Server® data warehouse appliance.

"We realize BI is all about understanding what makes a company and an industry thrive because data drives what they do," said President and CEO of RCG IT, Robert Simplot. "By recognizing that businesses need enterprise-wide BI, many organizations are ready to get BI 'right'."

Netezza is the global data warehouse appliance market leader, bringing appliance simplicity to a broad range of complex data warehouse and analytic challenges.

"We are pleased with RCG IT's agreement with Netezza as their technology is growing and will help our clients meet their demands for more comprehensive information faster. Our alliance will assist in delivering high-performance business intelligence solutions quickly with a considerably lower ownership cost. These changes will help our clients compete more aggressively in today's business world," said Richard Skriletz, Global Managing Principal of RCG IT's BI and Data Delivery practice.

Netezza, a global leader in analytic appliances, enables business users across the extended enterprise to leverage the power of high-performance analytics on all their data, simply and affordably, for competitive and operational advantage.

"We are excited about the partnership with RCG because of their capabilities in delivering BI implementation services across many vertical industries," said Ray Tacoma, Senior Vice President, Worldwide Sales, Netezza. "This partnership will enable our joint customers and prospects to benefit
